

FRIDAY, MARCH 8, 1745.

To the Publisher of the DAILY GAZETTEER.

S I think the Trade in general of this Kingdom will be in no small Degree affected by the Bill now in Parliament, intended to restrain the Weight to be drawn in Waggon, and other Carriages carrying Goods for Hire, if the same should pass into a Law; I desire you will, by your Paper, convey to of the Difficulties and Hardships which will be the Consequence of such a Law. For this Purpose, I send you inclosed a Copy of a Petition from Cambridge to a Member of Parliament on this Subject, which I desire you will insert as possible, and you will oblige,

Yours, &amp;c.

Cambridge, March 1, 1744.

With great Deference and Regard, that I take Liberty to offer to you such Objections as occur upon reading a Bill now brought into the House of Commons, for the better regulation of the Weight of Carriage, &c. And I hope you will be so good as to send me a Copy of this Subject, as it particularly affects this Town.

Then give me Leave to inform you, that Three-quarters of the Barley produced in the County of Cambridge, is sold, and brought here to be converted into the greatest Part of which is carried from hence by Waggon (we having no other Conveyance being the nearest Market it can be sent to) being so considerable a Branch of Trade in this County, during the whole Season of making, more than Thirty-five Waggon per Week employed in carrying it from hence to the Market above-mentioned. At present, the common Custom is a Team of Six Horses will carry Twenty Quarters of Barley, and the general Price is Two Shillings per Quarter for the Carriage.

If this Bill should pass into a Law, you will see, how much it must affect the Landed Interest in this County.

Now Twenty Quarters of Barley is, in Cambridge, about 55 Hundred; for which, suppose the Carriage is paid Fifty Shillings. And as the Weight of the Waggon, and Loading is, by the Act, increased to Hundred, it will not be in the Power of the Farmer to carry more than Twelve Quarters: the lightest Carriage that can be used for that Purpose, with Tilts, Chains, and other necessary Apparatus, weighing Twenty-four Hundred at least; the consequence will unavoidably be, that the Price of Barley will be very near doubled. What then are the Farmers employ'd in the Malting Trade to do? —

Not to be readily said by them, If we are to give the Farmers a Quarter more for carrying our Goods to Market, we must certainly give the Farmer as much more for Barley, or the Trade cannot be supported. We will be pleased to understand, that the vast Quantity of this Commodity that are sent to Ware, and carried in London; and unless the Commodity is carried to Market on as good Terms from some Counties on the Sea Coast, God knows what will become of our Produce.

It is notorious, that People employ'd here in carrying Barley at the present Price, can hardly get a Subsistence for their Families; and no proportionable Abatement could be made by them, if their Carriage could be reduced by Four Horses: Their Servants Wages being the same, their Toll nearly the same, and their Time not less.

A great Part of Hertfordshire and Bedfordshire, as well as Huntingdonshire, &c. will feel the same Distress; there being not only a great deal of the Barley Trade carried on there, but it is well known that the greatest Part of the Wheat produced in those Counties is carried upwards, (by People who make it their Employment) for a London Market: The Addition of which Carriage must first fall on the Landlord, and then on the Farmer.

All Sorts of Grocery Wares, Coarse Linens, &c. which are advanced in their Prices, is too well known; and it is to be the Consequence, if a double Charge be put upon the conveying these Goods, so necessary for Life, to the proper Venders, when the Price of the Farmers Staple Commodities, Barley and Wheat, will be so low.

Some Oppression, Sir, will the County of Norfolk, and the Isle of Ely, labour under, in an Article, perhaps, not under your Consideration (to wit) in the great Quantities of Butter that are Weekly brought to this Place for the London Market. And that you may be the better able to form a true Judgment of this Matter, it will be necessary to inform you of the Quantity of that Commodity sent hither Yearly. — From the Isle of Ely we have every Year about 30,000 Firkins, and from the County of Norfolk, no less than double that Quantity; in the whole, 60,000 Firkins of Butter.

The Price of Carriage from this Place (when there was a much smaller Quantity) within these Forty Years, was Two Shillings and Six-pence per Firkin. But since the erecting Turnpikes, which has been a great Expence to the Carriers, they have been able to lay on greater Loads, and have reduced their Prices for some Years last past to a full half, and continue so to do this Day; which has been the principal Reason for so great a Part of the County of Norfolk being converted into Dairy Farms, which were before ploughed; and the Increase in that Article, for that Reason alone, is, within the last Thirty Years, almost double.

Now, as the common Load laid upon Waggon from hence, is from 90 to 100 Firkins, reckoning each Firkin to weigh Half a Hundred, the Carrier, in Conformity to this Act, will not be able to lay on more than 50. And that therefore the Price of Carriage must be almost doubled, is a certain Consequence. Where then is the Loss to center? It cannot be laid on the Consumer, as the same Reason holds Good in regard to the Butter Trade, as in the Article of Milk. For if the Dairy Man is at a greater Expence in going to the same Market, than those of other Countries, it is obvious where the Loss must fall; which at Fifteen-pence a Firkin, will sink the Landed Interest of Norfolk, and the Isle of Ely, 5650 l. per Annum: Or if only a Shilling is added, it will then sink the intrinsic Value of those Estates 4500 l. a Year.

I hope you will excuse my taking up so much of your Time, as my Design, in being thus particular, is only for a common Good, and to offer my Sentiments where I am inclined to think there would be great Oppressions. And as I have been brought up in this Part of the World, and some Years concerned in Trade, it has given me an Opportunity of seeing the Hardships these Parts must labour under from such an Act: And I make no doubt, but each Trading County in England will have Reasons of the same Sort to offer. — For the like Grievances must certainly be left in the Woollen Manufactory, from Norwich, Manchester, the North of England, and great Part of the West, who depend on a London Market for their wrought up Goods. Sheffield and Birmingham, who depend on the same Market, and who employ so many Thousand Hands, must sensibly feel the sad Consequence of a double Charge to bring the Goods to Market; and what a terrible Effect must it have on all the Manufactured Goods of this Kingdom that are exported; and all Woollen Goods in general that are carried to Foreign Markets?

These few Reasons, I hope, Sir, will be sufficient to prove to you the Hardships this Act will bring on many of his Majesty's good Subjects; and that you, with the other worthy Members of the House, will take them into your Consideration; is the Request and hearty Desire of a Well-wisher to Old England, and the present happy Establishment. I am,

S I R,

Your most obedient humble Servant,

Count de Gages has demanded the City of Lucca, notwithstanding it is a free State, for a Place of Arms; which has thrown the Republick into such a Confusion, that they have named Ambassadors to the Courts of Vienna, Turin, Madrid, and Naples.

M. de Jonville, the French Resident at Genoa, made a most magnificent Entertainment there, on Account of the Marriage of the Dauphin with the Infanta of Spain; there was before his Palace the Representation of a Rock, at each of the four Corners of which, there was a Dolphin gilt, which ran with Wine from the Afternoon of the 15th, to the Morning of the 16th of last Month; besides which, he gave 3000 Loaves, and a whole Ox roasted, to the Populace.

They write from Basle, that great Disturbances have arisen in the Canton of Berne, from a very odd Cause. When the Sovereign Council was to be fill'd up, in which there were a great many Vacancies, and the obtaining a Seat in which, is the sole Road to Preferment; a Motion was made, that such as were Free Masons should be consider'd as incapable, which, after a great Struggle, was carried in the Affirmative, unless they abjure that Society.

They write from Prague, that the Saxon Auxiliaries have quitted their Quarters of Refreshment, and have begun to defile towards the County of Glatz; where the Prussians seem inclined to make their first and greatest Efforts.

The French having been taught by Experience, that they are as much subject to the Law of Nations, as other People, have begun to alter their Measures; and the Count de St. Severin, who is Ambassador from that Court to his Polish Majesty, has demanded a Passport from the General of the Allies, which was readily granted.

The Resolution taken to demolish all the Suburbs of Lille, has, at the Request of the Citizens, been superceded; and the Count de Saxe has declared, that they shall only be undermined, in order to their being demolished the sooner, in case of Necessity.

Field Marshal Count Konigsberg, and the Prince of Waldeck, are both arrived at the Hague; and it is believed, that the next Mail will bring us an Account of their setting out for the Army.

Some private Letters from Vienna insinuate, that Count Traun will be speedily sent back into Italy; and that Prince Lobkowitz, who is to be recall'd from thence, will command the Army in Moravia.

They write from Paris, that the Death of the King of Spain is still believed there, tho' no Notice is taken of it at Court; but Letters from other Places, of as fresh Date, say, that his Catholic Majesty is alive, and in good Health.

A Ship from Martinico, is taken by the Prince Charles Privateer, Capt. Gwynn, and sent into Ilfracomb. She left the Prince Charles Privateer well off Scilly, who intended to pursue his Cruise. This Prize is a Guinea Ship, and has a considerable Quantity of Cash on board.

By Letters from the Bermuda, or Somers Islands, we learn, that his Excellency Alured Popple, Esq. Governor and Commander in Chief of the said Islands, died there on the 17th of November last, after a Week's Illness, universally regretted, on account of his mild and just Administration. He has left a Widow and Three Children.

Last Wednesday Capt. George Westcott, Commander of the Prince of Orange, bound for Persia and Bombay, took his Leave of the Directors of the India Company, in order to proceed on his intended Voyage.

Yesterday Sir Simon Urring, Knt. Recorder of this City, made the Report to his Majesty in Council, of the Malefactors under Sentence of Death; when Martha Tracey, for a Street Robbery, and James Stansbury, for a Burglary, were order'd for Execution.

William Joyce, condemn'd for stealing a Bay Gelding, is to be transported for 14 Years.

Last Night the Corpse of the late Mr. Deputy Danfic, was inter'd in the Church of Alhallowes, Lombard-street; the Funeral being perform'd by Mr. Shard of Leadenhall-street: His Pall was supported by Six Aldermen.

Last Monday died at Penshurst in Kent, Richard Stephenson, Esq. a Gentleman of a large Estate in Hampshire.

Mr. William Hall, a Domestic of Mr. Baron Carter's, is appointed one of the Officers of the Court of Exchequer, in the room of Mr. Woodford, deceased.

Yesterday Morning died, at his House in Catherine-street in the Strand, William Soley, Esq. First Clerk to the Auditors Office in the Exchequer; under Lownds, Esq.
